DAILY HEADLINES

Monarchs Hope To Channel Their Inner Kings - UnionLeader.com

Backs to the wall, the Manchester Monarchs will look to their big brothers out west for inspiration. The top-seeded Monarchs trail No. 8 Norfolk 2-1 in their best-of-five AHL playoff series. Game 4 is set for tonight at 7:30 in Norfolk. Game 5, if needed, will be Saturday night in Norfolk as well. Manchester's NHL parent club, the Los Angeles Kings, just completed a rare comeback feat by winning their best-of-seven series against San Jose after trailing 3-0 thanks to players who could be in Manchester right now like Tyler Toffoli (three goals, two assists in the series).

Admirals Will Get Rickard Rakell Back For Game 4 - The Virginian-Pilot

The Anaheim Ducks reassigned center Rickard Rakell to the Norfolk Admirals on Thursday. Rakell, 20, notched 14 goals and 23 assists for 37 points in 43 games for the Admirals this season. He finished fifth on the team in points, and tied for third in assists. He returns just in time for what could be a series-clinching Game 4 of the Admirals' AHL Eastern Conference quarterfinal against Manchester at 7:30 tonight at Scope. Game 5 would be Saturday at Scope.

MONARCHS CALDER CUP FACTS

Bouncing Back - The Monarchs have not dopped three consecutive games all season and have only lost back-to-back games on five occasions. It has been over a year since Manchester has lost three straight match-ups; the last time being between March 29 and April 6, 2013. The Monarchs have not dropped three consecutive straight playoff contests in over six years, coming during the 2008 Calder Cup Atlantic Division Quarterfinals against the Providence Bruins, when Manchester was swept in four games.

Special Teams Factor - Through four regular season match-ups and three playoff contests against Norfolk this season, the Monarchs have been 1-for-23 (4.3%) on the power play, while the Admirals have gone 5-for-24 (20.8%). Norfolk's success on the special teams have helped the Admirals outscore the Monarchs 14-to-13 through the seven games. Manchester is 1-0 when scoring a power play goal against Norfolk, while the Admirals are 3-1 when scoring with the man-advantage.

April 26, 2014 - MCH (0/4), NOR (1/1), 3-2 L
March 1, 2014 - MCH (0/1), NOR (1/4), 4-1 L

February 28, 2014 - MCH (0/4), NOR (2/6), 3-2 L
November 16, 2013 - MCH (1/5), NOR (1/5), 3-2 W

On This Date In Monarchs Playoff History - The Monarchs have played two games on this date in playoff history. Manchester defeated the Providence Bruins, 4-1, at the Verizon Wireless Arena to claim Game 2 of the series on May 2, 2007. On this date last year, the Monarchs rebounded after dropping the first two games of the series to the Springfield Falcons, winning Game 3 with a 2-1 final score to avoid a 3-0 deficit in the series on May 2, 2013.
